A.R. Thomson Group (ARTG) is pleased to announce it has acquired the majority interest of the Delpro Group of Companies which includes, Delpro Automation Inc, Valax Systems Inc & Delpro Technical Services Inc (Delpro) effective April 28, 2017. ARTG is a Canadian-owned, family-run business founded in 1967 specializing in fluid containment and control products. Over the past 50 years, ARTG has diversified its product lines and expanded its industrial process valve offering. Delpro is also a family-run business founded in 1990 and has grown into one of the most capable Instrumentation, Automation & Control companies in Western Canada. Delpro specializes in process instrumentation, process control solutions, valve automation and valve maintenance services.

ARTG and Delpro are both represented by long-term staff with exceptional capability and application experience. We are very excited about combining our strengths and what benefits this expanded capability will bring to our customers, suppliers and employees! Our contact information, your local sales representatives, and inside contacts will remain the same. Only change at this time is our bank accounts for EFT payment processing.

For any questions regarding this development, please contact Jim Thomson or Tony Herrewig.

Best Regards,
